

WELCOME

Dear Coach,

Congratulations to you and your team for advancing to the 2006 World Finals! We are sure this is both an exciting and busy time in preparation for the Finals. Please take a few moments to review this Guide to Ames and ISU. We have included a few must-know tips for your stay in the Midwest. Good luck in preparing your team for World Finals. We look forward to seeing you in May!

Sincerely,

Ames, Iowa

Is centrally located in both the Midwest and Iowa. Located just 40 minutes south of Ames, the Des Moines International Airport is served by several commercial airlines. Ames offers an array of cultural and entertainment options. The average temperature is 70 degrees. Evenings are generally cool—daytime, balmy! Jackets and umbrellas are advisable.

Iowa State University

Was the nation's first land grant college and has since established itself as a world leader in such diverse disciplines as engineering, veterinary medicine, and agriculture. With over 27,000 students from more than 115 different nations, Iowa State offers cultural diversity and brings distinct international flavor to the Midwest.
