

Odyssey of the Mind

MEDIA ADVISORY

Odyssey Creativity Festival — Creative Challenges for the Community.

Odyssey of the Mind holds a Creativity Festival in order to celebrate worldwide creativity. Representatives from participating states and countries have created booths offering different kinds of fun, creative activities. Anyone from Odyssey and the Michigan community is welcome and the festival is free. NASA will also have a booth to challenge and inform festival-goers.. Participants will try to visit as many booths as possible in order to collect stamps and win a prized Creativity Festival pin. It will be a friendly, fun, fair-like environment full of activity, games, prizes and entertainment. NASA will be While people are on campus they can also visit celebrated micro-sculptor Willard Wigan. He will have a special exhibition of his sculptures in MSU's International Center.

Arrangements can be made for a press interview with Odyssey of the Mind's founder, Dr. Sam Micklus.

WHEN? May 28 - 29, 2010. The festival hours are: Friday — 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. & Saturday — 9 a.m. to noon.

WHO?

- NASA
- Artist Willard Wigan
- Odyssey of the Mind participants and supporters
- All the elements of a festival! Entertainers, booths, prize-winners, etc.

WHERE? Jenison Feildhouse, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

CONTACT: Joan Coates --pressroom@odysseyofthemind.com --Odyssey of the Mind Press Room — 517-432-1423 Jack Breslin Student Center, MSU.

WEBSITE: www.odysseyofthemind.com

IT'S A GREAT PHOTO OP!

